

Missionary Sisters of St. Columban

The Missionary Sisters of St. Columban, known as Columban Sisters, are a small, international group of women who have dedicated their entire lives to God by religious vows. Under the inspiration of the Holy Spirit and in response to Christ's grace and love, the Columban Sisters was founded to participate in the Church's missionary task of proclaiming the Gospel to the nations. As an expression of this commitment, they make themselves available to be sent on mission beyond boundaries of language, culture, and belief. They accept the challenge of insertion into ways of living that this involves. Together with those whose lives they share, the sisters endeavor by their presence and their service to proclaim the Good News and God's love for the world.
